About Me

I am a Computer Engineering student with a strong interest in software development and technology. I am currently building my skills in programming, web development, and problem-solving through academic projects and self-learning. Eager to apply my knowledge in a real-world environment and grow as a developer.

EXPERIENCE

Coursework Projects and Programming Skills:

- Applied object-oriented programming concepts through academic projects using C++ and Java.
- Built small-scale applications and implemented core data structures and algorithms to solve practical computing problems.
- Gained hands-on experience in MySQL for designing, managing, and querying relational databases effectively.
- Completed coursework in Operating Systems and Computer Networking, covering topics like memory management, process scheduling, and network protocols.

Collaborative Software Engineering Projects:

- Participated in team-based software engineering assignments, focusing on version control (Git), design patterns, and software testing practices.
- Used industry-standard tools to build, test, and deploy simple networked systems.
- Contributed to projects that demonstrated working knowledge of network configuration and operating system functionalities.
